

Museum of Scotland's Lighthouses

Duff House

Pennan

Traditional Scottish Cuisine

This full day excursion features two prominent sites on the Buchan Coastline: -the historic first lighthouse to be built in Scotland and Duff House, a magnificent example of Scottish Baronial architecture. Fraserburgh Lighthouse is also an ideal destination for a half day excursion.

First on the itinerary is Fraserburgh lighthouse, location of the museum of Scottish Lighthouses. Guides dressed in special uniforms will take guests to the top of the lighthouse offering panoramic views. Preserved as it was left by the last keeper, the lighthouse offers a fitting tribute to its 200 years of stormy history. The museum offers the best collection of lighthouse lenses and equipment in the UK and tells the fascinating story of the skills, dedication, science and romance of Scotland's lighthouses.

TOUR 3

Total hours full day:	8
half day:	4

Full day or half day excursion

Stormy History and Fine Art

The journey continues along the Buchan coastline, past the village of Pennan, location of the film Local Hero, starring Burt Lancaster, and on to the Royal Burgh of Banff to visit Duff House. Prior to a tour, lunch can be served in the restaurant. Alternatively a picnic or marquee lunch can be organised along with special musical entertainment. Set amidst beautiful park land, close to the North Sea shores, Duff House's imposing façade is one of the best works of William Adam dating from 1735 and has now been restored by Historic Scotland. Duff House is now a premier outstation of the National Galleries of Scotland from which it has drawn its rich collection of paintings.
